

Sign 10. Islamic law school

In the Ayyubid period Hisban had a madrasa, a university for the study of Islamic law. By the Mamluk period Hisban scholars were reknown as teachers and lawyers in Damascus, Jerusalem, and Cairo.

