

Sign 5. Rainwater harvesting

Rainwater harvesting has been crucial to survival in Hisban since ancient times. During the rainy season, rain is captured and stored in hillside terraces and field cisterns. In the past retention dams and reservoirs were used to store water along the wadi bottom.

